Author & Subject Index

AUTHORS

ADAMSON, REBECCA, An Honest Search, July/Aug, p. 48.
ALEXANDER, MICHAEL C., Inclusiveness: More Than Just "Diversity," Sep/Oct, p. 32.
APPELBAUM, STUART, Fundraising Fine Tuning, Jan/Feb, p. 43.
AYLWARD, RAYNA, Winning Over Employees, May/June, p. 38.
BACKER, THOMAS E. and STEVE L. KOON, Demonstrate, Evaluate, Disseminate. Repeat., Mar/Apr, p. 28.
BANKS, PAULA, Our "Softer Side," Mar/Apr, p. 52.
BARRINGER, DREW N. and JACK SWALLOW, Changing Fees, May/June, p. 34.
BLANCHARD, FRANK, One Foundation's Niche on the Web, Sep/Oct, p. 20.
BOLLMAN, NICK and MARGO VISCUSI, Taking a Stance—Over Time, Sep/Oct, p. 26.
BRANNON, MARGE, Employees Great and Small, July/Aug, p. 38.
BRODY, DEBORAH A., Not in the Family, May/June, p. 36.
CAMP, CARL, Giving to Express God's Love, Nov/Dec, p. 32.
CARSON, EMMETT, Inclusiveness: Foundations Aren't Inherently Good, Sep/Oct, p. 32.
CHAILLÉ, GREG, Three Funders: Growth Factors, Jan/Feb, p. 10.
CLYDE, ALLAN R., Educating the Elected, Sep/Oct, p. 42.
COBELL, ELOUISE, Three Intertwining Strands, Nov/Dec, p. 37.
COOK, LAUREN, Something for Everyone, Jan/Feb, p. 16.
————, Inside a Collaboration, May/June, p. 21.
CURTIS, JODY, Getting the Message, July/Aug, p. 23.
————, A Good Look at the Public Good, July/Aug, p. 28.
————, Reading, Right-and-Wrong, and 'Rithmetic, Nov/Dec, p. 23.
DE BETANCOURT, ETHEL RIOS, Duty to Help Others, Responsibility to Help Yourself, Nov/Dec, p. 36.
DOLL, HENRY C., Donor's Choice, Jan/Feb, p. 40.
ECKARDT, BOB, What I've Seen Firsthand, Nov/Dec. p. 37.
EDIE, JOHN A., The Self-Dealing Rules, Jan/Feb, p. 18.
ERDAHL, BECKY, A Commitment to Involvement, Nov/Dec, p. 35.
ESPOSITO, GINNY, Family Giving Identity, Nov/Dec, p. 18.
FARRELL, ANNE V., Improving on a Good Thing, Mar/Apr, p. 41.
FORMAN, STEVE, Who's Helping Who?, Nov/Dec, p. 48.
FRIEDLAND, FRED AND SANDRA, Receiving and Giving Back, Nov/Dec, p. 34.
GRAY, HOWARD K., Going Global, May/June, p. 26.
GRAY, SANDRA, Values Evaluation, Nov/Dec, p. 14.
GRECO, JOANN, Taking the Lead, July/Aug, p. 36.
GREENBERG, BARBARA R., Ethics: Clarify and Communicate, July/Aug, p. 40.
HEALEY, JUDITH K., For Better or Worse, Jan/Feb, p. 23.
HOVEN, M. PATRICIA, Ethics: Convey a Consistent Message, July/Aug, p. 42.
HUNTLEY, LYNN, Why We Fund Church-Based Programs, May/June, p. 48.
JACOBS, JOSEPH, Talking Politics: Liberals Haven't a Monopoly on Compassion, May/June, p. 13.
JOSEPH, JAMES A., Philanthropy and the Public Good, Jan/Feb, p. 35.
————, The Genesis of Community, Mar/Apr, p. 17.
————, Neither Liberal Nor Conservative, May/June, p. 31.
————, Philanthropy and Citizenship: A Vow of Service, July/Aug, p. 33.
————, An Argument Against Parochialism, Sep/Oct, p. 35.
————, On Moral Imperatives, Nov/Dec, p. 10.
KIDDER, RUSHWORTH, Reaching for What's Right, Nov/Dec, p. 28.
KING, REATHA CLARK, Growth Factors, Proliferation is a Quality and Access Issue, Jan/Feb, p. 10.
KINTZ, MARGARITA DIAZ, Life Experiences Inform, Nov/Dec, p. 35.
KIRKMAN, LARRY, A Conversation with Sara Engelhardt, July/Aug, p. 18.
KLEIN, ARTHUR, Inclusiveness: Inclusiveness Is Not a Guarantee for Success, Sep/Oct, p. 33.
KNOWLES, LOUIS L., A Conversation With Miklos Marschall, Jan/Feb, p. 13.
————, Social Investing Rolls Along, Mar/Apr, p. 22.
KOON, STEVE L. and THOMAS E. BACKER, Demonstrate, Evaluate, Disseminate. Repeat., Mar/Apr, p. 28.
KRAAYEVELD, DAN H., Ethics: An Orientation Opportunity, July/Aug, p. 42.
LITOW, STANLEY S., IBM's Reach, Sep/Oct, p. 37.
LORD, MICHELE, What One "Outsider" Saw in the South, July/Aug, p. 11.
MAHONEY, MARGARET E., Make Known What You Know, Mar/Apr, p. 29.
MAKLEY, BILL, Software for Sale, Sep/Oct, p. 15.
MASAKI, KAREN, Ethics: Communicate Concern Without Implying Censorship, Jan/Feb, p. 38.
McGRAW, REGINA, Cucumbers and Community Change, Nov/Dec, p. 32.
McNALLY, IAN, About Access: Remember Applicants Are on the Front Lines, July/Aug, p. 15.
MENDES, DOMINIC, Readers Rate Their Technology Expertise, Sep/Oct, p. 14.
MORRISON, IAN, Future Tense, Mar/Apr, p. 38.
NOBER, JANE C., Staying On The Right Track, May/June, p. 8.
NYBERG, POLLY, Combining Courage, Freedom, and Inspiration, Nov/Dec, p. 35.
ORR, SUSAN, The Guideposts of a Gracious Example, Nov/Dec, p. 34.
PERRY, CAROLLE FAIR, Talking Politics: Giving is Provided for the Public Good, May/June, p. 12.
REGELBRUGGE, LAURIE, About Access: Access Is Not Inherently Restricted, July/Aug, p. 14.
ROGERS, JULIE, Growth Factors: New Nonprofits Often Respond to New Needs, Jan/Feb, p. 11.
SATO, SUZANNE, Ethics: Send A Letter—From a Friend, Not a Funder, Jan/Feb, p. 39.
SCHARDT, ARLIE W., Building on Success, Jan/Feb, p. 33.
SCHNEIDERMAN, MARTIN B., Looking Into a New System, May/June, p. 16.
SCHROEDER, STEVEN A., About Access: CFPs Are Not a One-Way Street, July/Aug, p. 14.
SHACK, RUTH, A Conversation with Franklin Thomas, Mar/Apr, p. 10.
SHAW, KLARE E., Ethics: Initiate a Discussion with the Theater Company, Jan/Feb, p. 37.
SOMERVILLE, BILL, Planting Some Grassroots Grants, Sep/Oct, p. 9.
STONE, DEANNE, A Large Donation Coming Your Way?, Sep/Oct, p. 40.
STRANAHAN, ABBOT, Why We're Sold on Site Visits, July/Aug, p. 30.
SWALLOW, JACK and DREW N. BARRINGER, Changing Fees, May/June, p. 34.
TEPPERMAN, JEAN, Eye on San Francisco, Jan/Feb, p. 28.
TUTT, R. THAYER, Talking Politics: Start with a Values System, Not a Political Agenda, May/June, p. 12.
VISCUSI, MARGO and NICK BOLLMAN, Taking a Stance—Over Time, Sep/Oct, p. 26.
WEAVER, ERIC, Our Three-Legged Stool, Sep/Oct, p. 48.
WHEELER, ALISON, Nurturing a Grantmaking Vision, Mar/Apr, p. 36.
WILLIAMS, JODI, Opening the Door, Jan/Feb, p. 50.
ZEHR, MARY ANN, Is Your Interest Clear?, Jan/Feb, p. 42.
————, For the Record, Mar/Apr, p. 14.
————, The Intertwining of Values and Religion, Nov/Dec, p. 20.

SUBJECTS

AFFINITY GROUPS

Affinity Transitions, Funders Against Substance Abuse disbands. May/June, p. 6.
Fall Actions, Affinity group activities include setting up a consortium on welfare issues and encouraging funders to fund election programs. Nov/Dec, p. 7.
New Affinity, Several like-minded foundations start the Disability Funding Network . Mar/Apr, p. 5.
New Home, Grantmakers for Children, Youth & Families opens a new office, Nov/Dec, p. 8.

Author & Subject Index

New Site, ABFE has started to operate out of the Indiana University Center on Philanthropy. Sep/Oct, p. 8.

ARTS

Arts Giving Trends, A Foundation Center report tells about arts funding in the 1990s, Nov/Dec, p. 8.

When Has Artistic Expression Gone Too Far?, Grantmakers respond to a situation involving artistic expression lacking racial and cultural sensitivity. Jan/Feb, p. 37.

You Can Dance, A report on a Grantmakers in the Arts conference held in Baltimore. Mar/Apr, p. 8.

COMMUNITY FOUNDATIONS

Changing Fees, Why and how the Metropolitan Atlanta and Permian Basin Area community foundations switched to flat-rate administrative fees. May/June, p. 34.

Donations Rolling In, The New York Community Trust received more than $100 million in six months, Nov/Dec, p. 6.

Educating the Elected, Community foundations can benefit from getting to know the legislators of their districts. Sep/Oct, p. 42.

Fundraising Fine Tuning, A community foundation development officer describes five lessons learned on the job. Jan/Feb, p. 43.

Goal: Safer Communities, The National Funding Collaborative on Violence Prevention awards 12 community foundations $75,000. July/Aug, p. 6.

Happenings on the Hill, Community foundation representatives meet with legislators, Nov/Dec, p. 5.

Improving on a Good Thing, There can be many advantages to partnering private national foundations with locally oriented community foundations. Mar/Apr, p. 41.

Taking the Lead, Community foundations have developed creative techniques for managing donor-advised funds. July/Aug, p. 36.

Telecast Party, A Community Foundation Week press conference is telecast via satellite to 24 other community foundations. Jan/Feb, p. 7.

CORPORATE

Employees Great and Small, Chicago Tribune Foundation president explains expanding the foundation's board of directors to become more diverse. July/Aug, p. 38.

Future Tense, An expert's view of how corporate grantmakers might respond to the increased speed and power of societal change. Mar/Apr, p. 38.

IBM's Reach, A corporate funder's story of how IBM renewed its ties with post-apartheid South Africa. Sep/Oct, p. 37.

Is Your Interest Clear?, Several corporate grantmakers offer solutions to possible conflict of interest situations. Jan/Feb, p. 42.

Our "Softer Side," A Sears partnership found that focusing on community needs and business goals need not be mutually exclusive. Mar/Apr, p. 52.

Winning Over Employees, The Mitsubishi Electric America Foundation conducted a "grassroots campaign" to get employees involved. May/June, p. 38.

EDUCATION

Philanthropy and the Public Good, Communication with the public is both a matter of public responsibility and enlightened self interest for foundations. Jan/Feb, p. 35.

Reading, Right-and-Wrong and 'Rithmetic, Values education is experiencing a resurgence, Nov/Dec, p. 23.

ETHICS

Settled, Trustees of the Freedom Forum have to pay back $174,000 to settle a three-year investigation. Jan/Feb, p. 7.

Social Investing Rolls Along, Some foundations operate with a wall between goals of grantmakers and financial officers; others are attempting to reconcile them. Mar/Apr, p. 22.

Stand By Your Grantee?, Three solutions to a hypothetical situation in which a new program officer seems to have a different interpretation of the foundation's funding interests. July/Aug, p. 40.

FAMILY FOUNDATIONS

Donor's Choice, An explanation of giving trends in Ohio family foundations. Jan/Feb, p. 40.

Family Giving Identity, Families are a main force in passing on the charitable impulse, Nov/Dec, p. 18.

For Better or Worse, Understanding family dynamics to make family giving more effective. Jan/Feb, p. 23.

A Large Donation Coming Your Way?, How three family foundations learned to accommodate a surge in assets. Sep/Oct, p. 40.

Not in the Family, Family foundations tell how they work best with nonfamily trustees. May/June, p. 36.

Nurturing a Grantmaking Vision, Family foundations with assets of less than $5 million tell how they focus grantmaking. Mar/Apr, p. 36.

The Self-Dealing Rules, Twelve basic concepts to be familiar with when spending the grant and administrative dollars of family foundations. Jan/Feb, p. 18.

Why We're Sold on Site Visits, How to make the best of site visits. July/Aug, p. 30.

FUNDRAISING

About Access, Three funders discuss whether the move to Requests for Proposals signals an end to important conversations between grantmakers and grantseekers. July/Aug, p. 14.

GOVERNMENT & LEGISLATION

Advocacy Amendment, The House of Representatives approves an amendment designed to restrict advocacy by nonprofit federal grantees. Sep/Oct, p. 4.

Foundations Make Good Neighbors, Several foundations are working with the government to revitalize neighborhoods through its Empowerment Zone effort. May/June, p. 5.

From Michigan to Montana, A tax credit bill for donations to funds held by Montana community foundations will be introduced in the state legislature. Mar/Apr, p. 5.

Happenings on the Hill, Community foundation representatives meet with legislators, Nov/Dec, p. 5.

House (and Senate) Calls, A number of RAG representatives came together to educate Congress about foundations. Mar/Apr, p. 5.

Neither Liberal Nor Conservative, Support for philanthropy is a public interest opportunity, not a partisan political issue. May/June, p. 31.

The Newt Era, The National Committee on Responsive Philanthropy publishes a report that says foundations have been "non-visionary" in responding to proposed budget cuts by Congress, Nov/Dec, p. 6.

Sunset Testimony on the Hill, COF President James A. Joseph testifies before a House subcommittee, urging the reinstatement of full fair-market value deductions of gifts of stock. July/Aug, p. 6.

Taking Stock of S Corporations, The S Corporation Reform Act of 1995 is introduced in Congress to permit tax-exempt organizations to become shareholders of S Corporations. Sep/Oct, p. 4.

Talking Politics, Three grantmakers on whether organized philanthropy tends to be more liberal or conservative. May/June, p. 12.

What We See in the "Sea Change," Foundations are wondering how the new majority status of Republicans might impact philanthropy. Jan/Feb, p. 7.

GRANTMAKING

A Conversation with Franklin Thomas, An interview with the head of the Ford Foundation. Mar/Apr, p. 10.

Demonstrate, Evaluate, Disseminate. Repeat., How and why three foundations carry out their commitment to disseminating findings on solving societal problems. Mar/Apr, p. 28.

Eye on San Francisco, Foundation executives in the Bay Area describe the flavor of San Francisco philanthropy. Jan/Feb, p. 28.

Fight the Power, Next Generation, an organization focused on bringing young donors and activists together, is formed. Mar/Apr, p. 6.

For the Record, The history behind six groundbreaking grants. Mar/Apr, p. 14.

Going Global, How the McKnight Foundation created a funding program in Africa. May/June, p. 26.

A Good Look at the Public Good, Highlights from the COF 46th annual conference in San Francisco. July/Aug, p. 28.

An Honest Search, Years of fundraising experience help a new grantor develop three funding principles. July/Aug, p. 48.

Inside a Collaboration, Foundation Consortium Director Judy Chynoweth discusses her experiences with foundations and state agencies working together. May/June, p. 21.

Author & Subject Index

Make Known What You Know, Foundations can make the most out of their research on social problems by communicating what they've learned. Mar/Apr, p. 29.
Marking a Half Century, The Eugene and Agnes E. Meyer Foundation celebrates 50 years as a grantmaker. Jan/Feb, p. 9.
Planting Some Grassroots Grants, A foundation executive travels to the Gaza Strip to determine if grassroots grantmaking makes sense there. Sep/Oct, p. 9.
Recharging Grantmaking, A one-man crusade against "factory philanthropy." Jan/Feb, p. 7.
Something for Everyone, How regional associations of grantmakers are bringing together foundations and policymakers. Jan/Feb, p. 16.
Taking a Stance–Over Time, How Funders Concerned About AIDS arrived at a unified public policy platform with its membership. Sep/Oct, p. 26.
A Weighty Responsibility, The John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation's 1,500-page 1994 Form 990-PF. May/June, p. 5.

INVESTMENTS & FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

Staying On the Right Track, Guidance as to how foundation managers should refuse to pay pledges. May/June, p. 8.

IRS REGULATIONS

A Royal Gift, The IRS approves a plan allowing the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation to own stock in the Kansas City Royals. July/Aug, p. 9.

MANAGEMENT AND PERSONNEL

New Plans for James A. Joseph, COF President James A. Joseph announces his intentions to leave the Council in early 1996. May/June, p. 5.
Sorry, Our Mis-Clark, A correction from the July/Aug 1995 People section. Sep/Oct, p. 7.
Transition, President Clinton announces his intention to nominate COF President James A. Joseph as Ambassador to South Africa; COF Chief Operating Officer Judith A. O'Connor announces she will leave the Council to head Very Special Arts. Sep/Oct, p. 7.
Who Makes What?, The COF's 1994 Foundation Salary Report finds foundation salaries will grow by 5 percent for the second year in a row. Jan/Feb, p. 8.

MEDIA

Let's Review the Facts, The Council on Foundations, Carnegie Corporation and The Ford Foundation respond to an article about foundations published in the New Republic. Nov/Dec, p. 5.
Unsexy Sponsors, Eight foundations that sponsored a monumental University of Chicago sex study are hardly recognized by the media. Jan/Feb, p. 9.

NEW FOUNDATIONS

A Fund of Their Own, Six Michigan tribes form possibly the first intertribal foundation in the country. Jan/Feb, p. 9.

NEW TECHNOLOGIES

Getting the Message, Experts discuss what new information technology means for foundations at the 1995 COF annual conference. July/Aug, p. 23.
GRANET: New and Improved, An online network expands beyond affinity groups, Nov/Dec, p. 8.
Looking Into a New System, A checklist of newer, more efficient features of grants management software. May/June, p. 16.
One Foundation's Niche on the Web, The Whitaker Foundation established a web site for biomedical engineers on the Internet. Sep/Oct, p. 20.
Readers Rate Their Technology Expertise, Results of the "Are You on the I-Way?" technology survey. Sep/Oct, p. 14.
Software for Sale, Eight vendors and features of their grants management software. Sep/Oct, p. 15.
Universal Access For Nonprofits, Independent Sector writes guidelines to aid policymakers in shaping future telecommunications public policy. July/Aug, p. 8.
Web Watch, The Benton Foundation posts on the Internet a 15-page document on the status of the National Information Infrastructure policy. Mar/Apr, p. 6.

NONPROFIT SECTOR

Building on Success, Independent Sector's 15th annual meeting presents new strategies for rebuilding the nonprofit sector. Jan/Feb, p. 33.
Chinese Learn About the American Way, A delegation of 12 Chinese officials visits the U.S. to study the nonprofit sector. July/Aug, p. 7.
A Conversation with Miklos Marschall, An interview with the first executive director of CIVICUS. Jan/Feb, p. 13.
A Conversation with Sara Engelhardt, The Foundation Center president talks about gathering and sharing information on foundations. July/Aug, p. 18.
Growth Factors, Three grantmakers on whether the increasing number of nonprofits results in foundation money being spread too thin. Jan/Feb, p. 10.
Opening the Door, How the Public Welfare Foundation became more accessible. Jan/Feb, p. 50
Philanthropy and Citizenship: A Vow of Service, Providing incentives for service is neither new nor novel. July/Aug, p. 33.
A Scam and a Scandal, Recent reports of charities mishandling funds. July/Aug, p. 8.

RELIGION

The Intertwining of Values and Religion, Some foundations try to reinforce specific values through funding faith-based groups, Nov/Dec, p. 20.
Why We Fund Church-Based Programs, The Ford Foundation builds upon strengths in place within the African-American community. May/June, p. 48.

RESEARCH

Giving: Up, An American Association of Fund Raising Counsel study says foundations show the largest increase in giving to nonprofits in 1994. July/Aug, p. 9.
Spend Less, Give More, A 1995 COF report finds that lower spending rates will enable foundation assets to grow over time. May/June, p. 6.

SOCIAL ISSUES

After Proposition 187?, Several affinity groups released a publication encouraging funders to look at immigrant issues in the U.S. Sep/Oct, p. 8.
An Argument Against Parochialism, A challenge to look at our neighborhoods in a global context as our sense of neighborhoods becomes more local. Sep/Oct, p. 35.
The Genesis of Community, An excerpt from COF President James A. Joseph's book, Remaking America. Mar/Apr, p. 17.
Inclusiveness, Three funders on whether inclusiveness weakens or strengthens a foundation's ability to achieve its mission. Sep/Oct, p. 32.
On Moral Imperatives, There's a preoccoupation with values in public life, in individual behavior and in philanthropy, Nov/Dec, p. 10.
Reaching for What's Right, When values collide, a person often must choose between two right options, Nov/Dec, p.28.
Roundtable Trio, The Philanthropy Roundtable releases three new studies in "The Philanthropic Prospect" monograph series. Jan/Feb, p. 9.
Values Evaluation, Independent Sector developed a self-study process to bring organizational values into focus, Nov/Dec, p. 14.
What One "Outsider" Saw in the South, A funder forms her own impression on the state of civil rights in Alabama and Mississippi. July/Aug, p. 11.
What Shaped Your Values?, Ten grantmakers describe how their values were formed and how they express them through philanthropy, Nov/Dec, p. 32.
Who's Helping Who?, A grantmaker states his views about the "helpers" and the "helped," Nov/Dec, p. 48.
Women & Beijing, Funders met with Hillary Clinton to discuss how they might get involved in The U.N. Fourth World Conference on Women. May/June, p. 7.

URBAN REDEVELOPMENT

Our Three-Legged Stool, The first multi-bank community development corporation in Northern California is bringing together banks, borrowers and a community foundation. Sep/Oct, p. 48.